

CU Econ Students have won the 2017 SETHATAT award in the undergraduate division, a prestigious annual award instituted by the Bank of Thailand and granted to the best economic research papers in Thailand.

Miss Thanchanok Chaykamhang, EBA student, was awarded the First prize for her paper, “Measuring System Risk in the Global Equity Markets”.

Mr. Numsap Srisakolkit, BEcon student, was awarded the First runner-up for his paper, "Connecting the dots: The effect of FOMC speeches on market uncertainty"

Both students completed their research papers under the direction of Dr. Pongsak Luangaram.
Congratulations !!!